

Society of Control /America (SOC/A) Manual
on Technologies of Biopower and Attention-Whoring in the National Security State

NOTE:

This classified manual is intended for use by pre- authorized U.S. government officials ONLY. Any civilian or non-authorized individual reading this should stop immediately and destroy this document. If you fail to do so, we will know, and you will be in deep shit. The fact that you have your hands on it currently means that you're probably already in deep shit with us and thus nothing you do or say will affect your fate at this point. Like the majority of unsuspecting Americans, you're fucked. You might as well continue, then.

PREFACE

America as the National Security State is essentially a society of control (SOC/A). Therefore, its area of operations, or “government,” exceeds the traditional limits of democratic governments, in order to fully penetrate the mind and body of the political entity itself: the political animal that is the average American citizen.

In effect, the American should be considered the priority objective in this domestic war. The operation of a society of control functions through Governmentality, or the way a public authority in civil society exercises the art of shaping, creating and directing the ‘diffuse network of apparatuses that produce and regulate customs, habits, and productive practices’ for the public good or interest,¹ and is dependent upon biopower (concepts conceived by philosopher Michel Foucault.) For biopower to function, and for the SOC/A to achieve an effective command over the whole life of the population, the government must remain an integral, vital function that every individual embraces and reactivates of his or her own accord. Thus conceived as the military target of this war, the American has his most critical points in his mind and in his physical body. Once his mind and his body have been compromised as a result of SOC/A’s monitoring, regulating, and controlling his/her internal state, the American has been defeated, without necessarily receiving bullets (though this always remains an option).

Societies of control are born and nurtured in the imperialistic, empire-seeking political environment; in the constant combat to dominate all areas of political and social relationships that are inherent to all human beings and which collectively constitute the “environment” in which biopower moves, and which is where precisely its victory or failure is defined.

This conception of the society of control requires the technology of biopower itself as “forms of activity which attempt or aim at the conduct of persons; the attempts to shape, to guide, or to affect not only the conduct of people but, also, the attempts to constitute people in such ways that they can be governed.”² Political propaganda, economic regulations and fear tactics are our weapons, and the implementation and execution of rhetorical tactics and political strategies are the decisive factor.

This text is a manual for the training of current and future government officials employed by the U.S. National Security State as operatives in securing and retaining the footholds of the current society of control, and its application to the antiquated War on Drugs and the nebulous War on Terror.

INTRODUCTION

1.) Generalities

The purpose of this manual is to reeducate the member of the Society of Control / America (or SOC/A) about the current tactics being implemented and the future tactics that will be implemented in the exertion of internal and external control over the American public. This section is introductory and general; subsequent sections will cover each point set forth here in more detail.

The informed and intelligent beurocrat knows that he has very limited time before SOC/A gives way to the collapse of our national state as we know it, and thus it becomes necessary for individuals to have the ability to carry out, with minimal instructions from the higher levels, psychological action operations with the contacts that are thoroughly aware of the situation, i.e. the media.

2.) Propagandist-Combatant Beurocrat

In order to obtain maximum results, every beurocrat should be as highly motivated to carry out combat as he is a propagandist. In other words, the readiness and willingness of an official to use necessary force to accomplish his ends will be as acute as his ability to spout political propaganda at will. However, the means of such force will come from other government authorities such as the police, specialized task forces, or the military, all which exist to fulfill the necessary combatant aspects of SOC/A's chief goals. (These organizations will be analyzed in greater detail in the "Armed Propaganda Teams" section.)

The desired result is a government official who can persuasively justify SOC/A's unconstitutional actions when he comes into contact with any member of the American public, and especially with himself and his fellow beurocrats in dealing with the increasing awareness of postmodern American society. This means that every beurocrat will continue to be persuasive in his impersonal communication with the public via press conferences and media news outlets like FoxNews. In his brief address, he should continue to list several illogical but somehow suitable reasons as to why Americans should sacrifice civil rights and liberty for SOC/A's sake, and for the sake of the "safety of the American people." When behaving in this manner, the beurocrat will never appear as an enemy of the people because he will continue to boisterously drown out all other credible information telling the public otherwise.

3.) Armed Propaganda

Armed propaganda includes every act carried out, and its aim is to create a good impression that will result in positive attitude in the population. In this sense it is not forced indoctrination, but aims at improving the behavior of the population toward the beurocrat without force.

This means that the SOC/A will not give the impression that its arms, the military and police force, are its strengths against the American public, but rather that they are the strength of the public against other nations and terrorist organizations. This is achieved through a close identification with the people, as follows: masking imperialistic war tactics with the idea that they are being used to "protect the American people, our critical infrastructure, and key resources;"³ advertisements to young men inspiring them to join the military force to "strengthen oneself for tomorrow;" describing in simple slogans how weapons will serve the public to ensure their freedom and to "achieve a more secure Homeland that sustains our way of life as a free, prosperous, and welcoming America."⁴

The War in Iraq and the War on Drugs have as their goal the creation of an identification of the people with the weapons and the SOC/A members who carry them, so that the population feels that the weapons are, indirectly, their weapon to protect them and help them in the struggle against a regime of terror. As long as explicit coercion is avoided, and only applied in subtle contexts, positive attitudes can be achieved with respect to the presence of the beurocrat within the population.

4.) Armed Propaganda Teams

Armed Propaganda Teams (educational institutions which produce military, police, special ops forces, DEA, FBI, military recruiters, etc.) are formed through selection of persuasive and highly motivated members of SOC/A who move about within the population, particularly the 18-24 year old demographic, encouraging the people to support the beurocrats and put up resistance, i.e. join the military, against the terrorist. They are operatives of the military force, the strong arm of SOC/A. A high degree of appealing "benefits" and the "armed" propaganda ability of the SOC/A are combined to win favor from the student. The tactics of the recruiters are carried out covertly and at the University level, and should be parallel to the tactical effort of the beurocrat. Armed Propaganda Teams employed by SOC/A are hereafter termed "GUNS" (Governmentality Under the Nation State).

5.) Development and Control of the "Front" Organizations: Political Parties

The development and control of “front” organizations-the Democratic and Republican political parties- is carried out through subjective internal control at group meetings of “inside cadres,” where established SOC/A members will be recruited as “Social Crusaders” in “innocuous” movements within the SOC/A. They will receive instruction in techniques over control of target groups- consumers of the public- through a gradual process involving “debates” and “political platforms.” A central control system- the imaginary line between the Democrat and the Republican- isolates the two parties from each other, and at the appropriate moment- the collapse of SOC/A- their influence is used for the fusion of groups into a united national front and a single political party in which both political parties and government retain all available resources under the new SOC/A.

6.) Control of Mass Meetings and Assemblies: The Media

When the a cadre- or tightly knit group of zealots- are placed or recruited in organizations such as political parties, they will be to manipulate the objectives of the group. The psychological apparatus of SOC/A’s movement through these zealots prepares a mental attitude which at the crucial moment can be turned into a fury of justified violence, i.e. in backing of the War in Iraq, of which Conservative Christians are the number one supporter.

Through a small group of beaurocrats- media characters, moguls, and networks- infiltrated within the masses this can be carried out; they will have the mission of agitating by giving the impression that there are many of them and that they have a large popular backing. Using a small tactical force a demonstration can be created where more members of the population will rally and support.

7.) Support of Contacts with Their Roots in What the Hell is Really Going On

The SOC/A is the result of a continuous program of indoctrination and motivation- the capturing of the minds and bodies of the public through the technology of biopower. Members of the SOC/A will have the mission of showing the American public how great and fair our movement is in the eyes of all Americans. Identifying themselves as “American citizens” also, they will increase sympathy and patriotism toward our movement, which will result in greater support of the population for the military and the government, thereby ironically taking away the power of the people itself.

The beaurocrat, the military and the police force, the educational institution, the political party, and the media provide a several-stage program over all parts of the country which is “exercised over members of a population so that their sexuality and individuality are constituted in certain ways that are connected with issues of national policy, including the machinery of production. In this way populations can be adjusted in accordance with economic processes.”⁵ Because the infiltration and internal subjective control have been developed in a manner parallel to other SOC/A activities, a beaurocrat of ours- George W. Bush- like Presidents past, has literally be able to shake up the democratic structure on which this nation was founded, and replace it with SOC/A.

The mass assemblies- the political parties- are the culmination of a wide base support among the population. The political party has arisen significantly in the latter part of the 20th and early 21st century, and will come to a head in later phases of the SOC/A operation. That will be the moment in which the ultimate overthrow can be achieved and the transformation of democracy into the future society of control can be an open one, at which point we will laugh in all of the American public’s faces.

The tactical effort in the SOC/A is directed at the weaknesses of the subject- their fear and desire for security. “Interest at the level of the consciousness of each individual who goes to make up the population, and interest considered as the interest of the population regardless of what the particular interests and aspirations may be of the individuals who compose it, this is the new target and the fundamental instrument of the government of population: the birth of a new art, or at any rate of a range of absolutely new tactics and techniques.”⁶ In the implementation and successful operation of the SOC/A, psychological activities should be simultaneous with the military ones, in order to achieve the objects desired: insurance of capital and resources for the SOC/A of the future.

PROPAGANDIST-COMBATANT BEAUROCRAT

1. Generalities

The objective of this section is to familiarize the beaurocrat with the techniques of Governmentality, which maximizes the social-psychological effect of the SOC/A, converting the beaurocrat into a combatant, in addition to being a propagandist.

2. Political “Awareness”

The individual political awareness and government role of the beaurocrat, the “reason” for his job, will be as important as his ability to incite and support combat. This can be achieved:

- By improving the combat potential of the beaurocrat by rationalizing morality for the sake of “a greater good”
- By the beaurocrat telling himself that he is a vital tie between democracy and the people, whose support is essential for the demise of both
- By fostering support of the population for the SOC/A and its military endeavors in relating “military victories” and the “successes” of the Wars against insurgents

3. Group Dynamics / Talking Heads

Political awareness and motivation-building are attained by the use of group dynamics at the level of smaller units broadcasting to larger units. Group dynamics in Congressional hearings and sessions raise the spirit and increase the unity of thought amongst beaurocrats, and exercise social pressure on the weakest members to better carry out SOC/A’s mission and training. Members of Congress and other representatives of the public will give special emphasis to:

- Creating a favorable opinion of the Wars; through local and national history, make it clear that “terrorists” are “terrorizing the American people and destroying the American way of life”; that groups like “Al Qaeda [are] to terror what the mafia is to crime”⁷, and that they are “puppets” of the power and distortion of Islam, i.e. of foreign religions
- Always a local focus; for example, town meetings to discuss how residents are prepared and protected in “turbulent times”
- Show each citizen the need for good behavior, adherence to laws like the Patriot Act. Discussion guides should convince supporters that the attitude and opinion of the population play a decisive role, because the success of the control society is impossible without voluntary submission
- Carry out group discussions in town and areas of operation whenever possible with the American-town meetings, press conferences, etc. This will give the façade that SOC/A identifies with the objectives of the people
- It is appropriate for the leader to incite the mind of the American to guide the discussion of a group or organization to cover a number of points and to reach a correct conclusion, i.e. that the “American/consumer way of life” is ideal and should be perpetually sought after. This will continue the pattern of the American approach, which is to construct and act upon an idealized self that fits will into the current political and social order. However, the public should feel that it was their free and own decision to seek this

- “Democratic” conduct by the beaurocrat- living, eating, kissing babies, and if possible (though not necessary and most unlikely) fighting at their side- will foster understanding and the spirit of cooperation with the public
- Face with “honesty” the national and local problems of the American “struggle” for “freedom.” The political cadres should always be prepared to discuss solutions to the problems observed by certain members of the population. During the discussions, the beaurocrat should pretend not to be guided by this pre-programmed manual, but instead to be guided by the following three principles:
 - o Freedom of though
 - o Freedom of expression
 - o Concentration of thoughts on the security objectives

* The total control of the nation is our goal. The SOC/A is a pluralistic platform from which we are determined to sacrifice freedom and equality for a richer economy and a higher standard of living for those with already high standards of living

4. Interaction with the American

To ensure popular support, the leaders should induce a positive interaction between the American and the beaurocrat. They should give emphasis to positively identifying themselves with the people. It is not recommendable to speak of military tactical plans in discussions with Americans. The “terrorist” or “drug trafficker” should be pointed out as enemy number one and all discussion should be diverted toward it.

5. Conclusions

The persuasion of the propagandist-combatant beaurocrat with the American is one of the most effective and available tools to be used as much as possible during the process of the struggle.

ARMED PROPAGANDA

1. Generalities

Frequently, a misunderstanding exists on “armed propaganda,” that this tactic is a compulsion of the people with arms. In reality, it does not include compulsion; it is more accurately the re-imaging of a soldier as a brother, friend, and companion, or of a police officer as a “servant of the people.” But the beaurocrat should know well the principles and methods of this tactic. The objective of this section is to give the beaurocrat an understanding of the armed propaganda that should be used, and that will be able to be applied in fulfilling SOC/A’s mission.

2. Close Identification with the People

Armed propaganda includes all acts carried out by an armed force, whose results improve the attitude of the people toward this force. This is carried out by a close identification with the people.

For example, during patrols and other operations around the country, police officers should be respectful and courteous with the people. He should move with care and always be well prepared to fight, if necessary. But he should not always see the people as enemies. Even in domestic Wartime, it is possible to smile, laugh or greet people. After all, though the drug user is a criminal and the object of war, the support of SOC/A- the reason why we must employ these tactics- is bolstered by the American.

In places and situations whenever possible, such as on college campuses, the military teams can explain the operations of weapons to the youths and young men. They can show them an unloaded rifle; their use, and aiming at imaginary and real targets (see Figure 1), are potential recruits for our forces.

(Source: <http://www.safety-identification-products.com/terrorists-shooting-targets.html>)

The embedded beaurocrat within Armed Propaganda, i.e. the embedded journalist, or the “war correspondent,” should always be prepared with slogans in order to explain to the people, whether in an intentional form or by chance, the reason for the weapons: for freedom, democracy, etc.

All of this has been designed to create an identification of the people with the weapons of the military and with the military officials who command them. Finally, we should make the American feel that we are thinking of them and that the military is there to help protect them from a foreign imperialist regime that is indifferent to the needs of the population, while unbeknownst to them SOC/A carries out its domestic imperialistic regime.

3. Implicit and Explicit Terror

A beaurocratic armed force always involves implicit terror because the population, without saying it aloud, always feels terror that the weapons may be used against them. However, if the terror does not become explicit, and instead is manifested subtly, positive results can be expected.

In a society of control, the individual lives under a constant threat of mental assault. If forces of resistance against SOC/A fail to put an end to its beaurocratic propagandist activities, the population will lose confidence in the counterculture movement (i.e. the Flux- pirate radio, underground press, artists and musicians, etc.- which has the inherent mission of guaranteeing the sanctity of the minds of its fellow Americans through a process of self-birth, or the capacity of the human to interact with the world as is without owing anything to it). However, SOC/A should be careful not to become an explicit terror, because this would result in a loss of popular support and bad poll numbers.

In the words of a leader of the Huk guerilla movement of the Philippine Islands: “The population is always impressed by weapons, not by the terror that they cause, but rather by a sensation of strength/force. We must appear before the people, giving them the message of the struggle.” This is, then, in a few words, the essence of armed propaganda.

An armed propaganda force can occupy an entire town, like Hollywood , that is unaware or relatively passive in the conflict. In order to conduct the armed propaganda in an effective manner, the following should be carried out simultaneously:

- Destroy all medical marijuana clinics or grow-houses and remove surviving plants to government-based facilities for “testing”
- Wiretap all outside lines of communication: telephones, e-mails messages, etc.
- Entrap Americans in order to delay their psychedelic mental reinforcements
- Arrest all counterculture officials or agents of the Flux and replace them with military or beaurocratic officials of trust to SOC/A; in addition, carry out the following:
 - o Shame, ridicule, and humiliate the “personal symbols” of Flux in the presence of the American public and foster popular participation through beaurocrats within the movement, shouting slogans and jeers (i.e.: “A hippie is someone who looks like Tarzan, walks like Jane, and smells like Cheetah”)
 - o Reduce the influence of individuals in tune with Flux, pointing out their weaknesses and taking them out of the country through deportation or exile

The beaurocrat and armed propaganda force should instruct the American public that when arrested, they may reveal EVERYTHING about the Flux movement being carried out. For example, the types of drugs being sold, how many people are involved, in what cities and towns they came from, in short, EVERYTHING, and by doing so, their actions will not be placed on their permanent or “criminal” record, or worse, on their credit report.

When a press conference is held, conclude it with a speech by one of the cadre leaders (the most dynamic, such an Ann Coulter- Figure 2), which includes explicit reference to:

The fact that the “enemies of the American public”- the Flux movement, the counterculture, the “neoliberals”- must not be (though probably should be) imprisoned despite their unpatriotic anti-war mongering, although the military has suffered moral causalities as a result of their “protests”, and that this is done due to the generosity of the Fundamentalist Christians who are here to save our souls from hell.

Give a declaration of gratitude for the “patriotism” of the population. The fact that the Flux movement, although it seems appealing with its ideas of free speech, open source software, autonomy, which they might want to be a part of, will not be able to resist the attacks of nor look away from our beaurocratic attention-whoring forces.

4. SOC/A Weapons are the Strength of the American Public over the Terrorists/Drug Trafficker

The SOC/A member does not give the impression that weapons are the power of SOC/A over the people, but rather that the weapons are the strength of the people against the Terrorist/Drug Trafficker. Whenever it is necessary to use armed force in a visit to a town or village, SOC/A members should emphasize that they:

- Explain to the population that this is being done “for their own good,” and never because the government benefits in any way
- Admit publicly that this is an “act of the DEA” with appropriate explanations, i.e. “that the timing of the medical marijuana bust and the Los Angeles’s action to vote to support the federal legalization of marijuana was ‘purely coincidental.’”⁸

* The force of weapons is a necessity caused by the Flux movement, and will “cease” to exist when the “forces of justice” of our movement assume total control.

If, for example, it should be necessary for one of the advanced posts to have to fire or taser an American, the following is recommended:

- Explain that if the citizen had managed to ask his question or reveal certain information, he would only have been aiding the terrorist enemy by conceding important military information
- If a SOC/A member tasers an individual, make the public see that he was just desperate for attention and “trying to make a scene”
- Make the public see that if the subject hadn’t employed such silly and unpatriotic antics, etc., the police would not have to brandish tasers against fellow Americans, which goes against our Fundamentalist Christian sentiments. If the informant hadn’t been such a prankster, he would be enjoying his monotonous, mindless life together with the rest of the American public

5. Conclusions

Armed propaganda includes all acts executed and the impact achieved by SOC/A’s armed forces, which as a result produces positive attitudes in the population toward our cause. However, propaganda is the most traditional and effective available instrument.

ARMED PROPAGANDA TEAMS/ GOVERNMENTALITY UNDER the NATION STATE (GUNS)

1. Generalities

This section is to inform the guerilla student as to what Armed Propaganda Teams / Governmentality Under the Nation State (GUNS) are in the SOC/A environment- the DEA, the FBI, the police, the military, etc.

2. Combination- Political Awareness and Propaganda: The University

GUNS combine “political awareness”-building with armed propaganda, which will be carried out by carefully selected beaurocrats (preferably with experience in propaganda) for personal persuasion within the public. An example is the creation of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board, “which will consist of the presidents and chancellors of several prominent U.S. universities, is designed to foster outreach and to promote understanding between higher education and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.”⁹

The selection of the staff is more important than the training, because we cannot train SOC/A cadres to show sensations of ardor, which are essential for persuasion. More important is the training of persons who are intellectually agile and developed- i.e. college students.

The target groups for GUNS are not students who have already developed sophisticated political knowledge, but rather those whose opinions are formed from what they see and hear in the Attention Sink. The aim is to “attract the best and brightest students to careers in the law enforcement and intelligence communities.”¹⁰ The media cadre should use persuasion to carry out the mission. Some persuasive methods include the following:

Interior/Exterior Group: It is a principle of psychology that we humans have the tendency to form personal associations from “we” and “the others”, or “we” and “they,” “friends and enemies,” etc.

The University and other GUNS can use this principle in its Homeland Security curriculum, so that it is obvious that the “exterior” groups are those of the terrorists/drug trafficker, and that the “interior” groups are those that fight for “security of the nation” (SOC/A).

Armed Propaganda Teams should use this principle in favor of our ironically insurrectional government. GUNS should ensure that SOC/A’s actions are directed specifically against the terrorist and his sympathizers, since the people should have specific attention-diverting targets for their frustrations.

Techniques of Persuasion in Talks or Speeches:

Be simple and concise. You should avoid the use of difficult words or expressions because the American public is largely stupid and ignorant of them anyway. Instead, use popular buzz words and attention-getting phrases, such as “Osama Bin Laden,” “9/11,” “the safety of our children,” “Paris Hilton,” etc. It is important to remember that we use oratory to make the American public understand the reason for SOC/A’s actions, and not to show off our seemingly advanced knowledge and higher income.

Use Lively and Realistic Examples. Avoid abstract concepts, as this will confuse the average American.

Use the Appropriate Tone of Voice. If, on addressing the people, you talk about military victory, a happy tone should be used. If you talk of something sad, a somber tone should be used. If you are pretending to be seriously concerned about America, use a grave, journalistic-voice and frown slightly.

Above all, be as intense, strange, and sexually active of a character as possible. Imitation of previous behavior should be avoided, since the people, especially simple people, are easily distracted by new and improved media targets and celebrities.

4. Psychological Tactics, Maximum Flexibility

The cadres of GUNS will give ideological training, mixing these instructions with popular country music songs about the American Dream, and at the same time he will tell stories that have some attraction. He will also try to tell stories of heroism, such as the work of firefighters and police officers on the September 11th attacks, or the victories of U.S. soldiers in Baghdad, so that listeners try to imitate them. It is important to let them know that there are other countries in the world that aren't as great as America, and that America is the greatest nation of all.

The cadre should not make mention of their political ideology, and they should orient their talks to things that are pleasing to Americans, like celebrity gossip and weight-loss tips. Meanwhile, tactical objectives are as follows:

- To establish identification with the people through their own customs- i.e. eating at McDonald's
- To discover the weaknesses of the Flux movement, i.e. paranoia and fear
- Social and intellectual criticisms: directed at professionals, professors, teachers, students, and others, to make them see that their writings or conversations are censored, and that they will be constantly tracked via biotelemetric technology and surveillance, so they are not tempted to talk or write about resistance in the first place
- Little by little, to sow the seed of the new SOC/A

As a general rule, GUNS should avoid shooting people. However, if this is not possible, they should react as a government unit with tactics of "hit and run," i.e. surprising individuals randomly in the middle of the night with SWAT teams and aggressive assault, recovering "drug caches," and withdrawing rapidly.

5. Conclusions

In the same way that "the media" are the "eyes and ears" of "the people," GUNS are the source of information, of power, the "antennas" of our movement, because they find and exploit the sociopolitical weakness of Flux: fear.

DEVELOPMENT AND CONTROL OF FRONT ORGANIZATIONS: POLITICAL PARTIES

1. The development and control of front organizations in the forms of political parties (or façade organizations) is an essential process in SOC/A's effort to carry out its infiltration of the American.

2. Initial Recruitment

The initial recruitment to the political party, if voluntary, will be carried out at the collegiate level with consultations with a cadre- i.e. rhetorical questions posed about the state of the individual's happiness. Then, the recruit will be informed that he or she, due to his or her beliefs, race, gender, and income bracket, is already a Democrat/Republican, and that he or she will be exposed as an "irresponsible citizen" if he or she does not cooperate and vote either in the next election.

After a chain of recruitment had been developed, and the trustworthiness of the Democrat/Republican has been established by their vote in local elections, they will be instructed to increase/widen the chain by recruiting in specific target groups, in accordance with the following procedure:

Make an approach through an acquaintance, and if possible, develop a friendship, attracting him through his preferences or weaknesses: i.e., free pizza at the meeting.

3. Established Citizens, Subjective Internal Control

Established citizens, such as doctors, lawyers, businessmen, landholders, celebrities, etc. will be recruited to the movement and used for subjective internal control of groups and associations to which they belong or may belong.

For instance, economic interest groups are motivated by profit and generally feel that the system hinders the use of their capability in this effort in some way, so they should vote Republican.

And political aspirants, particularly if they are not successful, feel that the “system” or “the Man” discriminates against them unfairly, limiting their capabilities, and so they should vote Democrat.

4. Conclusions

The development and control of the political party in SOC/A will give our movement the ability to create the “whiplash” effect within the population when the order for fusion of the two parties is finally given (Figure 4), in addition to providing the public something by which to occupy their time. When the infiltration and internal subjective control have been developed parallel with other SOC/A, a Democratic/Republican leader will literally be able to command every vote in the nation.

CONTROL OF MASS MEETINGS AND ASSEMBLIES: THE MEDIA

1. Generalities

In the last stages of implementing a society of control, media frenzies are powerful psychological tools for carrying out the mission. This section has as its objective giving the bureaucrat and future media character training on techniques for controlling and inciting such frenzies.

2. Infiltration of Guerrilla Cadres

* Our psychological war team- led by Wolf Blitzer and Ann Coulter- should prepare in advance a hostile mental attitude among the target groups so that at the decisive moment they can turn their frenzy into declarations of war, demanding their rights as Americans and as Christians that have been trampled upon by the terrorist/drug traffickers and Muslim fanatics.

* These preconditioning campaigns must be aimed at the American public and should be broadcasted 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, with scrolling "Breaking News" marquees and fancy graphic headlines.

* The basic objective of a preconditioning campaign- the Attention Sink- is to saturate the public with a negative "stereotype" of the common enemy, i.e. the dark-skinned, young, male Muslim, or the hood-rat, black gang leader providing drugs to the peaceful, white suburban youth.

Describe the war protestors as "Islamofascists" and "anti-Semites."

The members of the Flux countermovement are "hippies" and illegal aliens (while the backbone of our labor force) are drug-running, dirty scoundrels.

The media will create compulsive obsessions of a temporary nature in places of public concentration- TV screens- incessantly hammering away at tired themes, focused on the intention of distracting the American public from what is really going on.

3. Selection of Appropriate Slogans/Slurs

When public support for the Wars is being developed, the SOC/A media should make partial demands on "behalf of the American citizen," initially demanding, "We want a judge to unseal documents relating to the search of Michael Jackson's Neverland Ranch," or, "We want to know Joe Paterno's salary,"- steps that will "lead" the American toward having a "say" in the function of the government.

An example of the need to give simple slogans is that few people think in terms of the public as a whole, but any one person, however rich or poor he or she may be, understands that there are people out there who are more rich or more famous, and that wealth or fame should be equated with success and understood to be their goal.

4. Creation of Nuclei- Celebrities

This involves the mobilization of a specific number of agitators- mindless celebrities- who are at the heart of the media frenzy. This mobilization will inevitably attract an equal number of curious Americans who seek adventure and emotion, as well as those who are not as rich or famous as they would like to be.

Agitators will visit the places where the ambitious yet mindless Americans meet- clubs, boutiques, Teen Award Shows- in order to recruit them on their behalf and to get them to like them enough to pay attention to their every word and deed.

5. Ways to Lead a Media Frenzy

A media frenzy can be carried out by means of a small, influential news outlet, who will have the mission of agitating, giving the impression that there are many of them and that they have popular backing.

The agitation of the masses in a demonstration is carried out by means of sociopolitical objectives. In this action one or several people of our covert movement should take part, highly trained as mass agitators, involving innocent persons, in order to bring about an apparent spontaneous protest demonstration. They will lead all of the concentration to the end of it.

Outside Commando. This element- the media mogul- stays out of all activity, located so that they can observe the development of the planned events. As a point of observation, they should sit at home and watch the media coverage on TV.

Inside Commando. This element- the reporter- will remain within the multitude. Great importance should be given to the protection of the leaders of these elements, who will eventually become celebrity characters all on their own, like Geraldo Rivera.

Agitators of Rallying Cries and Applause. These media whores will be trained with specific instructions to use tried rallying cries. They will be able to use talking points such as "Abortion," "gay marriage," "school shootings," etc. as distractions. Their technique for agitating the masses is quite similar to those of the leaders of applause and slogans at the high school football or baseball games. The objective is to become more adept at encouraging "debate" and not just to shout rallying cries when attention becomes too focused once again on SOC/A.

6. Conclusions

In a revolutionary movement of guerrilla warfare, the media and protest demonstrations are the principle essential for the destruction of Flux resistance. If celebrities rally around a certain point, then the public will almost be sure to follow.

CONCLUSION

Too often we see the operation of SOC/A only from the point of view of GUNS. This view is erroneous and extremely dangerous. Combat actions are not the key to victory in the operation of the National Security State but rather from part of one of the aforementioned basic efforts- the beaurocrat, the GUNS, the educational institution, the political party, and the media whore. There is no priority in any of the efforts, but rather they should progress in a parallel manner and divert or consume attention whenever necessary. The exclusion of any of these efforts, or worse, the attempt of the American citizen to ignore them altogether, could bring about serious difficulties, and in the worst of cases, even failure...
